WELL KNOWN FARMER IS KILLED BY BULL

Louis Folbrich Is Suddenly Taken by Death When Animal Attacks

Louis Folbrich, 71, a farmer near Lake Marie for over thirty years, was killed early yesterday morning, when he was attacked by an enraged bull.

No one witnessed the tragedy. According to his son, Walter, who lives with his parents, his father had left the house to drive the cows from the pasture to be milked. When he failed to return, Walter ran down to the pasture where he found the body of his father crushed and lifeless. Walter hurried for his gun and shot the animal, a grade bull, to prevent any further attacks.

The coronor's jury at the inquest held the same morning in Strang's undertaking rooms, returned a verdict of death from injuries received from the attack of the bull.

Born in Austria.

Louis Folbrich was born December 8, 1859, in Austria. He received his education in that country, but came to America with his parents while still a young man. He worked for several years in various packing houses in Chicago, and about 1888 married Miss Antonia Haselberger.

He spent the last thirty years of his life farming on the west side of Lake Marie. He was in active health until his death.

He is survived by his wife, four sons—Charles and Eddy of Chicago, Walter of Antioch, and Louis who was graduated Tuesday from the University of Chicago; one daughter—Emily, who teaches school at Hubbard's Woods; four grandchildren, and several brothers and sisters in Chicago.

Funeral services will be held at St. Peter's church at 8 o'clock Standard Time tomorrow morning. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery in Chicago.

ANTIOCH BASEBALL LEAGUE IS FORMED

First Game of New League
Is Taken by Morley's
Moose Team

The organization of a baseball league of Antioch teams was effected last week. Four teams compose the league—the business men's team, with Otto Klass manager; the Moose team, managed by William Morley; the firemen, with Ed Vos managing; and Pauchendale, under the management of Les Palmer.

The East Siders and West Siders have dissolved their individual teams and have become merged into one team, the Business Men's.

Moose Victorious.

The Antioch Moose infield team won an easy victory over the Firemen in the first league game of the season Monday evening, 15-5. The pitching of Shunnesson, Moose hurler, baffled the Firemen, who had no comeback.

However, it is impossible to predict this early in the season the leading teams, and the Firemen were optimistic in promising an exhibition of better ball playing at their next game.

Here We Are

TRUCK LICENSE BORDER WAR IS RENEWED

Wisconsin Declines to Enter
Proposed "Armistice" Agreement

Although Illinois stands ready to agree in writing on an "armistice" in the motor truck license controversy started by Wisconsin, that state has thus far refused to enter into an agreement, with the result that the "war" continues in both states, according to the Chicago Motor Club.

Wisconsin recently began enforcing a new piece of legislation providing that all motor trucks from other states must have Wisconsin license plates if they were to be driven in that state. Many arrests were made. Illinois authorities retaliated by arresting drivers of Wisconsin trucks.

Phil Harmon, chief investigator for the secretary of state for Illinois, recently proposed that both states discontinue arrests of this character until a test case had been carried to the Wisconsin supreme court. In furtherance of the agreement, the motor club pointed out, Illinois authorities ceased arresting Wisconsin truck drivers, but the arrests of Illinois truck drivers in Wisconsin continued unabated. Thereupon, Chief Investigator Harmon announced that the Illinois authorities would continue to arrest Wisconsin truck drivers until that state agreed in writing to arrest no more Illinois truck drivers until the high court had passed upon the test case.

Inasmuch as approximately three times as many Wisconsin trucks are being driven into Illinois as Illinois trucks are being driven into Wisconsin, the motor club pointed out, it appears that the Wisconsin operators will suffer the most from the legislation passed by the general assembly of that state.

Indignant at the misrepresentations made by various "ex-service men's" organizations soliciting funds in Antioch recently, S. M. Wallace, commander of the Antioch Post 474 of the American Legion, publishes the following letter warning residents:

"The recent widespread phone solicitation of every household and business house in Antioch and the unimpeachable attempt to confuse our citizens as regards ex-service men's organizations, prompts the Antioch post to warn the public against any such future solicitation.

"As is always the case, the organization which recently solicited the sale of tickets over the phone, is not identified locally. The funds secured will not be used for local relief. Preceding, as it did, the annual sale of poppies by our own women's organization, the phone campaign detracted to a large extent from the success of an activity which raises funds each year for social service work at our own U. S. veterans' hospital unit No. 105 at North Chicago.

"This post of the American Legion and our auxiliary is the only legitimate ex-service organization in our city. Any legitimate solicitation on our part at any time will be given proper publicity in the local press. If possible, we ask the co-operation of the residents of Antioch to reject any appeals made by any other so-called ex-service organization."

Largest Food Store Ad Appears Today

The largest food store advertisement ever published in the News appears today on pages 6 and 7, a birth announcement of the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

The Antioch store of the A. & P. company, which has been under the management of P. E. Chinn continuously since its establishment here several years ago, is accounted one of the company's best rural stores in the entire Chicago district. Upon several occasions the manager has been awarded prizes for having shown the greatest percentage of increase in business.

Advertising at this time, according to the company officials, is recognized as a distinct service to buyers who will want to take advantage of present low prices.

Chicagoan Killed In Motor Crash North of Here

Earl Weldon, 22, 38 North Ashland boulevard, Chicago, was killed Sunday morning on route 21, one mile north of here, when his car skidded and overturned. The owner of the car, John Feitner, of Glen View, was with him, but escaped with minor scratches.

They were joined a few minutes after the accident by several friends with whom they had spent the weekend. Weldon then was hurried to the office of Dr. R. D. Williams, but he died within a short time. Feitner was taken to the Victory Memorial hospital where he was retained until after the inquest, held by Dr. Maurice Penney at Strang's undertaking rooms at 3:45 Sunday morning. Feitner was exonerated of all blame.

The party was reported to have been on a vacation in the lake region in northern Illinois and Wisconsin. Both Weldon and Feitner were pressmen for the Chicago Herald and Examiner.

TWO ARE DROWNED OVER WEEK-END

Chicago Man Loses Life in Long Lake; Lad Drowns
in Hastings Lake

Hastings lake waters claimed one of the two drowning victims of the week-end. He is William Flint, 18, a leader in Junior Y. M. C. A. activities in Du Page county, who had come to the camp for a short outing with the other Y. M. C. A. members of that county.

He and a companion were canoeing Sunday, when the boat capsized, and the boys were spilled into the water.

Flint struck out for shore, but evidently becoming exhausted, cried out for help. His companion, who had clung to the overturned boat, hurried to attempt a rescue, but Flint went under and never came to the surface. Several other boats were within a short distance of the scene of the drowning, but the occupants were unable to locate the body immediately. When it was found, every effort was made to restore the lad's life, but all attempts were useless. Flint had just been graduated from high school.

Second County Drowning.

Flint was the second drowning victim in Lake county during the week-end. The first drowning of the season was at Long lake Friday when William Ryerson, Chicago street car motorman, fell overboard while fishing. His body was not recovered until the following day. According to witnesses, he appeared on the surface of the water twice before finally disappearing.

Former McHenry Co. Treasurer is Dead

Lynn Richards, Brother of Antioch Man, Dies While Changing Auto Tire

Lynn Richards, of Crystal Lake, brother of Don Richards of Antioch, was found dead Tuesday beside his automobile one mile from his home. A deflated tire and a number of tools strewn on the ground beside him indicated that he had been in the act of repairing the tire when death took him.

At the inquest held last night, it was found that death was due to cerebral hemorrhage, and not from the gas from the exhaust pipe.

Richards was recorder and treasurer of McHenry county for several years, and former cashier of the now defunct U. S. bank of Crystal Lake. He is survived by his widow and daughter.

He had been the guest of his brother, Don Richards, at Antioch, at lunch Tuesday, and it was when he attempted to repair the tire on the return trip that he was taken by death.

REAL INDIANS TO BE FEATURE OF LEGION FESTIVAL

One of the outstanding features of the American Legion festival this year will be a family of full-blooded Indians, it was learned last night. These Indians are of the Ojibway tribe from the Couderay Indian reservation, near Hayward, Wis. They will move onto the grounds the week of the Fourth, and remain through all the festival days on July 2, 3, 4 and 5.

Arrangements for a full program of entertainment and attractions are being completed by the Legion committee.

$300 WORTH OF GOODS TAKEN FROM AUTO SUPPLY STORE

Ray's Gas Station Is Robbed of Twenty Dollars by Four Youths

Investigations by county deputy sheriffs into the robbery at the Hudco Radio and Auto Supply store in the Morley building Monday night have failed to uncover any clues as to the identity of the person or persons involved.

The loss of about $300 worth of radio and auto accessories was discovered Tuesday morning when Alfred G. Brosman, salesman and assistant, opened the store. He found that entrance had been effected by breaking the lock on a rear door.

Rob Filling Station.

Twenty dollars in cash was taken from Ray's gas station about 3:30 Monday morning. According to the night tender, Albert Brookman, four men drove up in a large car and asked for gas. While he was filling the tank, they entered the station upon the pretense that they wanted to wash their hands. They came out, paid for the gas and drove away. When he went back into the station, Brookman found that the $20 in the cash register had been "lifted."

The men were young, between 20 and 25, and well-dressed, Brookman said.

LEGION TEAM IS SHUT OUT BY ONE RUN

Bishop Stars in Game with Lake Forest; Gives One
Hit in Six Innings

The Legion boys lacked one run of tying the North Chicago Legionnaires at the ball park here last night, losing 8-7. The game was quite uneventful, with Avery at the mound hurling steadily, strongly backed by his team mates.

Defeat also fell to their lot Monday evening, when Lake Forest defeated them in an overtime game, 8-2, on the Lake Forest diamond. Bishop displayed some remarkable steady pitching, making twelve strike-outs and giving but one hit in the first six innings. Willett rounded the bases for a home run, and is credited with a 3-bagger.

Lake Forest's winning run was made when the pitcher hit a 3-bagger. The boys won an easy victory from Lake Bluff last Friday, 14-2.

DRIVERS' LICENSE BILL BELIEVED DEAD

The proposed auto drivers' license law is believed to be dead as a result of action yesterday in the house judiciary committee.

Raising the question of lack of a quorum, Representative John M. Devine of Dixon moved postponement of consideration until next Thursday. This will be too late to get action in the house, which is scheduled to adjourn Friday or Saturday.

The measure, which originated with the Hoover safety commission and has been defeated by previous assemblies, was sent last week "for study of amendments."

It was apparent then that "stalling" tactics were being employed to kill the bill, which provides for a test of all automobile drivers.

WORK STARTS ON ROUTE 173

Contractor Begins Grading
at Richmond
Friday

ANTIOCH-ROSECRANS CONTRACT TO BE LET

Work on another section of state route 173 was begun Friday when the contractor for the Richmond-Antioch stretch began the work of grading in Richmond at the intersection of the route with route 61 in that village.

Held up for many months on account of right-of-way difficulties in Antioch and Channahon localities, the section was finally put up for bids without settlement having been made and the bids were subject to certain deductions in case the entire stretch cannot be completed under the present contract.

The state highway department at Springfield Tuesday opened bids for construction projects to cost $5,000,000. The state is to furnish cement for the paving. Contracts for the jobs will be let within a few days. The Rosecrans and Antioch road, 6.51 miles, will probably be let to Perry T. Fess of Madison, Wis., whose bid of $131,194 was lowest.

The letting of contracts for paving of 19.47 miles of road in Lake county at a cost of $500,000 is seen as a relief for a large number of road workers. The various contractors have promised to employ Lake county men wherever possible.

Drop Liquor Charge Against Pregenzler Resort

Henning Johnson and Jack
Nyan Cases Are Still Pending

The liquor charge brought against Ray Pregenzler, Grass Lake, when federal agents made a raid upon his resort recently, was dropped Tuesday by Federal Commissioner Walker, who held evidence insufficient as the raid had been made without a warrant.

The raid was forced without warrant, when the federal agents, while searching for a wildcat brewery in the Grass Lake region, stopped to rest at Pregenzler's and discovered a glass of beer on the bar.

Raid Crooked and Deep Lake
Henning Johnson, who operates a resort house at Deep Lake, was arrested Friday on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquors, when federal prohibition enforcement officers found and seized a large quantity of liquor. Johnson was released on $2,500 bond until his case is heard. Jack Nyan, Crooked Lake, was arrested by county officers on a similar charge. He is to be given a hearing before Judge Talbot.

Congressional Remapping Bill Passed By Senate

Bill Creating Fifty-One New Senatorial Districts Is Defeated

A re-mapping bill, creating twenty-seven new congressional districts in Illinois was passed yesterday by the senate, 49-4. However, the bill to create fifty-one new senatorial districts was unexpectedly defeated, 25-20.

The bill must go back to the house again for its approval of the thirty-one amendments to the congressional bill made by the senate, before being sent to the Governor for his signature. No reapportionment in congressional or senatorial districts has been made in Illinois for thirty-one years, although the constitution provides for new districts every ten years.

In the almost certain event that the congressional bill passes, the new boundary lines will become effective in time for the April primary election, and for the election of candidates at the Republican and Democratic conventions.

Governor Emmerson is said to be in opposition to giving Cook county more control by establishing more senatorial districts.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Karlson, of Highland Park, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Runyard Wednesday evening.

DEPRESSION'S GREAT LESSON

Private business is finding ways to lower costs, fixed and otherwise, without lower efficiency, and in the end that may be the depression's greatest blessing in disguise for private business, says the Oakland (Calif.) Post-Enquirer. Perhaps the same thing will be true of public business.

The Post-Enquirer has summed up a situation that confronts every community. What every city, county and state needs is a smaller total tax collection from every taxpayer, not new methods of getting more taxes. Let the increased tax funds come from increased business and no more taxes from less business.

PREVENTION OF FRAUDS IN CONTRACTS

(Chicago Daily News.)

Excessive prices for public work constitute no small part of the enormous waste characteristic of local government in many sections. They contribute substantially to the high and mounting cost of public administration. The practice of charging the public excessive and even extortionate prices for supplies furnished or work performed has been encouraged, rather than resisted, by spoils officials. Outrageous profits allowed contractors commonly have been split with dishonest men in office or else have found their way in part to political treasure chests.

United States District Attorney Johnson has sponsored a bill at Springfield designed to prevent fraud in public contracts. That measure is sleeping in some legislative pigeonhole and the chances of favorable action upon it are remote. With these facts in mind Alderman Massen has drafted a city ordinance designed to accomplish locally what the legislature shows no intention of doing for defrauded taxpayers of Chicago and other communities of the state.

ARE YOU A LAW-BREAKER?

No other great country has so many laws as the United States. No other great country has so much law breaking, it is said. This is not, of course, a coincidence. It is gradually being realized that too many laws are, as detrimental as too few laws.

Law-breaking has become in a way a national sport—concurrent in by persons in all walks of life. And still our elected officials continue to grind out more and more laws to add to the already sagging statute books.

There is no point in chiding the public for countenancing lawlessness. The blame must go largely to those who have aided and abetted the mania for passing "more restrictive laws."

If all the antiquated traffic laws, 10-15-20 and 30 miles an hour speed limits, prohibition laws, anti-gun laws, "spitting" ordinances, anti-smoking ordinances, etc., were enforced, probably 25 per cent of all citizens would be subject to fine or imprisonment every day. We pass so many laws that it is impossible to enforce them because we couldn't provide enough courts and jails to handle the minor cases.

TIME FOR EFFICIENCY IN GOVERNMENT

When a private business has a deficit, it begins to cast around for ways and means to increase its earning power or decrease its overhead.

Now that our federal government is facing a gigantic deficit, many of our law-makers are concerned with how to "increase" taxes.

Tax gatherers overlook the simple fact that in times of distress, the more taxes that are taken from the people, the less money there is for productive enterprise. And it is from productive enterprise that all taxes and employment must eventually come.

Industries and individuals have been readjusting themselves to present conditions. Let tax-levying bodies follow the same course or admit to the people that they are incompetent to adjust government expenditures to government income.

SAYS HEAVY TRUCKS ARE WORST ROAD DESTROYERS

"One hundred freight trucks can do more harm to the roads than a million Fords," Frank T. Sheets, chief state highway engineer, told the motor vehicle committee of the Illinois legislature now considering a number of bills to regulate the length, width, height and particularly the weight of commercial motor transports and high speed busses.

Mr. Sheets testified that his department was flooded with complaints from every part of the state, protesting against the encroachment of huge freight vans and multiple trailer units which he said were doing more harm to the highways than any other kind of vehicle.

SAYS TRUCKS HARM STATE INDUSTRIES

Staggering losses totaling millions of dollars which unaccounted for by commercial busses and freight trucks have inflicted on the collateral populations of some of the state's basic industries were revealed here today in a survey bulletin made public by the Illinois Taxpayers' Hard Roads Association.

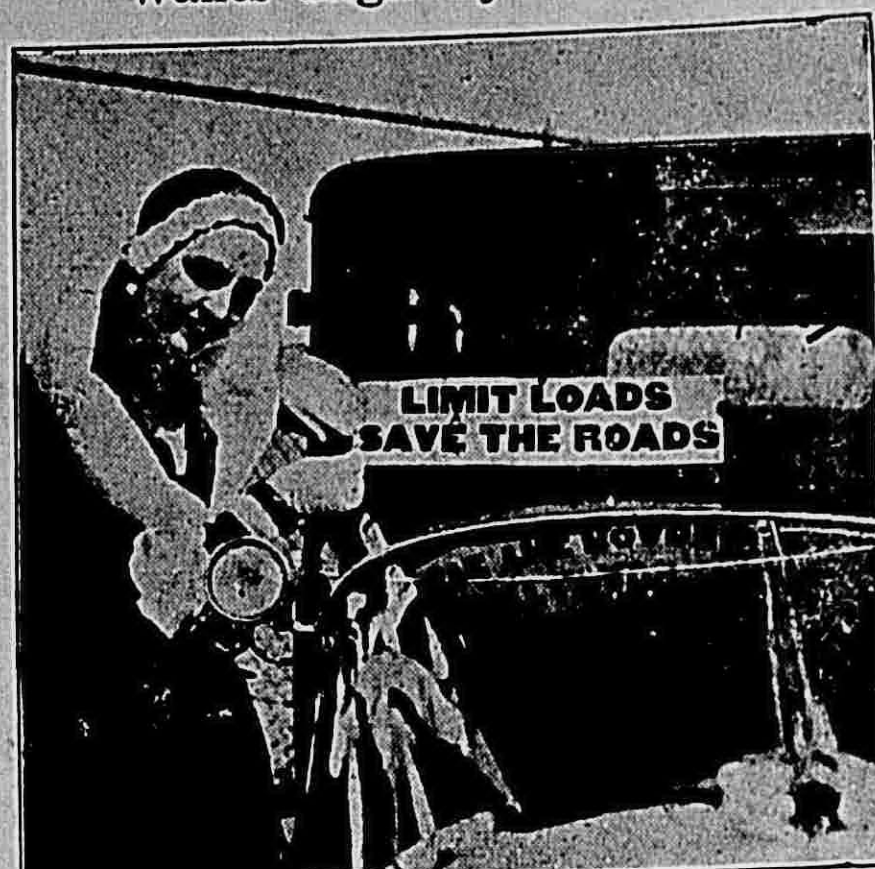

"Chief among those affected by the present-day undisciplined highway competition have been the farmers, bankers and another related army almost as large, made up of tradesmen and professional workers, dependent in whole or part for their support upon the coal mines of Illinois," the report states.

"This vast collateral population, which is in addition to the actual workers and their families, has suffered untold losses reaching into the millions of dollars as the result of disastrous curtailment in the production of locomotive fuel due to the diversion of railroad freight and passenger business to the motorized, highway carriers.

"The situation has engendered a vicious circle of personal and social calamities reaching far afield. In some instances it has brought about the financial collapse of whole communities, resulting in deserted villages and bankrupt school districts from which the non-contributing bus and truck interests have lopped millions of dollars in taxable income by crippling industries such as the coal mines and railroads upon whose taxes public bodies heretofore have relied to keep the wheels of government and education turning."

As a remedy, all commercial vehicles using the highways principally as a means of profit and income at the expense of the taxpayers, should be placed under responsible public control, and taxed commensurate with their exploitation and destruction of such public property which costs the taxpayers approximately $10,000,000 yearly to repair, and is growing in increasingly more expensive to maintain, especially by the agricultural population, the survey concludes.

Wants Highways Preserved

Mrs. Mabel Brown poses on the windshield of her car, one of the "Limit Loads Save the Roads" stickers of the Illinois Taxpayers' Hard Roads Association, which is sponsoring bills now before the legislature to halt the mounting destruction of Illinois highways by overloaded freight trucks.

THOUSAND DISASTERS RECEIVED RED CROSS AID IN 50 YEARS

American Society to Celebrate Its Birth Year With Nationwide Observance

Tornadoes, floods, forest fires and other calamities and upheavals of nature have visited the United States more than one thousand times in the last half century.

All of these were of severe intensity, causing loss of life and great property damage. Minor catastrophes were not counted in this list of disasters, which has been made public by the American Red Cross, in connection with the celebration this year of its fiftieth birthday.

It was on the evening of May 21, 1881, in the modest home of Miss Clara Barton in Washington, D. C., that the American Association of the Red Cross was first formed. Before the year was out, and before, indeed, the United States Government had officially moved to approve the Treaty of Geneva, adding this nation to the company of thirty-two others adhering to the treaty to protect wounded in warfare, Miss Barton had plunged the small society into a disaster relief task.

First Red Cross Unit

This was in the north woods of Michigan, where forest fires swept the homestead farms of pioneering families. Miss Barton, as president of the Red Cross, had organized a branch in Danville, New York, where she was sojourning. This little group immediately raised money, food, clothing and other supplies and sent them to the forest fire victims. In Rochester and Syracuse, New York, nearly word spread of this charitable enterprise, and Red Cross auxiliaries were organized there to help. So began the disaster relief work of the Red Cross fifty years ago. In the intervening years, millions of men, women and children have been aided. Thousands of homes have been restored. Thousands of persons, overwhelmed by floods, tornadoes, and fires until all they possessed had been wiped away, have been rehabilitated and prosperity and happiness again smiled upon them.

This year has been dedicated by the Red Cross and its chapters in 3,500 communities to commemoration of the events which led to the birth of the society in the United States.

President Hoover Speaks

The celebration of the anniversary was inaugurated in Washington at a dinner, attended by many distinguished men and women, at which Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes presided, and President Hoover, who is the president of the American Red Cross, was the chief speaker. Judge Max Huber of Geneva, Switzerland, the president of the International Committee of the Red Cross, in which fifty-seven nations are joined in a Red Cross brotherhood, also was a speaker, as were Chairman John Barton Payne of the American Red Cross, and Miss Mabel T. Boardman, secretary, and veteran leader of the society.

The Red Cross standard, which flies all around the world where mercy is needed, was first introduced as an ideal in our modern civilization in Geneva in 1864, when the international Red Cross convention, afterward to be known as the Treaty of Geneva, was signed by twelve countries agreeing that on the battlefield the wounded should be given aid by doctors, nurses and others, who should wear the sign of the Red Cross, and be treated as neutrals in the warfare.

Two Americans attended this first convention, the American Minister George C. Fogg, and Charles S. P. Bowles, representative in Europe of the United States Sanitary Commission, a volunteer organization of sympathizers with the North in our Civil War. Facts they gave resulted in adoption of some of the American ideas.

Returning to the United States, Fogg and Bowles sought recognition of the Geneva Treaty, but the Grant administration took no interest. Under Hayes, the same lethargy was encountered.

Clara Barton Founder

But there had emerged from the Civil War period a middle-aged woman who had seen much service on the battlefields around Washington. This was Clara Barton. Ill health caused her to make a trip to Europe in 1869. There she became interested in the Red Cross idea, and joined a unit which saw service in the Franco-Prussian war. Upon her return home, she launched an active campaign for the treaty, but met the same opposition as her predecessors. However, President Garfield, when he came into office, recognized the merits of the movement, and when death by assassination removed him, his successor, President Arthur, sought approval by the U. S. Senate of the treaty. Thus was consummated a seventeen-year fight in this nation for a humanitarian ideal. Clara Barton was recognized as the society's founder and was its president for twenty-three years. She died in 1912 at the age of 90 years.

It is not generally thought of, but the flag so familiar in every civilized nation as the emblem of the Red Cross, had a simple derivation. Because the originator of the movement, Henri Dunant, was a Swiss, and the first treaty to protect wounded in battle was drafted and signed in Switzerland, the flag of that Republic—a white cross upon a red background—was reversed, and the Red Cross came into being.

HAS MANY PROPOSALS

Mile. Friedel Haerlin of Germany, who, during a single week, received 1,120 proposals of marriage through the mail, following the publication of her portrait in a popular German newspaper which described her as "the prettiest girl in the world."

American Money Abroad

Direct foreign investments at the end of 1929 made by American corporations and business men amounted to approximately $7,478,000,000. More than 25 per cent, or $1,960,320,000, was invested in Canada; $1,547,895,000 in South America; $1,352,753,000 in Europe and $1,053,751,000 in Cuba and the West Indies. Smaller totals are reported from Mexico and Central America, $917,093,000; Asia, $894,510,000; Australia and New Zealand, $149,154,000, and Africa, $102,220,000.

Think It Over

Taxpayers' Questions

With the press reporting overdrafts to June 1 of $19,246 for the poor funds, why were so many supervisors advocating the issuance of several hundred thousand dollars in poor relief bonds and without a referendum vote by the voters of Lake county?

What are the other overdrafts and for what?

Is it any wonder that an Illinois senator just said, "The boards of supervisors are the most expensive, extravagant, and useless bodies we have in our system of government," and the senate killed a bill to suffer $200,000 in Lake county bonds to be issued without a referendum and in the sacred name of the poor?

Yet are not the poor with us and what are the taxpayers to do about their fair, reasonable relief in Lake county?

Should several thousand dollars of tax money be expended as pay to a supervisor for services rendered in dispensing a few more thousand for the poor relief or should the greater part of all taxes for poor relief be given by some economical means to the poor?

What reason exists to prevent systematic, business-like methods in caring for the poor and disbursing tax money for poor relief?

Cannot supplies and foodstuffs be bought wholesale and distributed to the able-bodied poor from a central relief station?

When there are such large overdrafts cannot the supervisors cut out many committee meetings and save the fees for the poor?

When refunds are made in large amounts for money illegally disbursed to certain supervisors, cannot such refunds be used to wipe out some of the overdrafts and also care for the poor without a bond issue?

Does not the statute, chapter 24, article IV, section 6, say that no person shall be eligible to any office who is not a qualified elector of the city and who shall not have resided therein at least one year next preceding his appointment?

When a real alderman leads raids on the vice district of great renown, should not somebody aid such an alderman with the names and addresses of other joints on other streets, especially on a street which attempts to honor the name of the Father of our Country?

If a member of a police force informs his superior that another member has taken graft in a vice district, what will be the action of such a superior?

Will the militant taxpayers be obliged to protect honest members of a police force?

Is it not a relief to read that a fine alderman objects to the creation of a lot of jobs, street foremen, assistant collectors, and demands that campaign pledges of real economy be made good to taxpayers?

Why is it that a local press fails to print the names of bidders and the amount of their bids for school houses, paving, etc., when the taxpayers are much interested in knowing the facts?

WAUKEGAN CITY COUNCIL MEETING OF JUNE 15

This meeting was largely discussion and planning for a special meeting of June 17, when matters of importance will be completed. These matters will be reported next week.

One of the outstanding incidents of Monday night's meeting was the return of a check by Attorney Okel S. Fuqua of $26.36, which was voted to him for his expense to Springfield in connection with the governor's signing the validating bill.

You will recall that Mr. Fuqua was the acting corporation counsel at the time the petition was put into the council for the change of government election and that, I believe, through no fault of his but that of the commissioners in power at that time, it was gummed up dreadfully. He, however, has done everything that he possibly could to straighten the matter out and we admire and praise him for his work.

We would like to have the people know at this particular time that Mr. Fuqua is a brother-in-law of Alderman Newton E. Finn, and both of these men have the sincere interest of Waukegan at heart.

We shall tell some things of interest about Mr. Finn in another issue.

We cannot refrain from taking this opportunity of comparing Mr. Fuqua's expense bill for this most important trip to Springfield of $26.36 with that of many of the supervisors when they go on a jollification trip to Springfield, who bring in bills for the poor taxpayers of Lake county to pay of $50, $60 and $75, and then plead for $200,000 bond issue without referendum to take care of the poor that can't pay their taxes because of the enormous and unjust amount they are assessed.

AWAIT PUBLISHED REPORT REGARDING DISBURSEMENTS

Because of the importance of the June meeting of the Board of Supervisors the Lake county taxpayers were interested in having one of their representatives attend the various sessions as much as possible.

Four days were occupied by this body in transacting the business for the more than 100,000 people of Lake county, June 8, 9, 10 and 11. Each day they met at 11 a. m. and adjourned about 3 p. m.

Monday was occupied in reading minutes of previous meeting. Tuesday morning completed this work.

Some of the important matters during the session were the reports of

BOARD OF REVIEW MEMBERS TO TAKE OATH OF OFFICE

Before the recently appointed board of review begins the work of reviewing the assessment on Lake county property, the three members will have taken the following oath of office:

"I do most solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will, as a member of the Board of Review of Assessments, faithfully perform all the duties of said office as required by law; that I will fairly and impartially review the assessment of all property as made; that I will correct any and all assessments which should be corrected; that I will make said assessment or lower the same as justice may require; that I will do and perform all acts necessary to procure a full, fair and impartial assessment of all property of every kind, nature and description."

The board is composed of Supervisor William J. Obee, Highland Park, chairman; John O'Keefe, Highland Park, and Mrs. Amy White, Grayslake. Robert Pearson, Waukegan, has been appointed chief clerk, and Gerald Strang, assistant chief clerk.

Supervisor Vercoe, chairman of the finance committee, and that of auditor Sims.

Mr. Vercoe made his report on Tuesday and it was the first time he made a report to the Supervisors that gave an idea of how he handled the sale of the $1,250,000 road bond issue. (Continued on Page Nine.)

WHO'S WHO IN LAKE COUNTY

Sketches of Lake County Officials

By R. H. S.

As we have already told you in the Lake County Taxpayers News, it is our intention from week to week to give a brief and understandable pen sketch of the various offices in the various government units of Lake county. We are starting with the court house and the first and one of the most important offices we enter is that of the county judge.

Judge Perry L. Persons was born in Lake county fifty-six years ago. He received his early education in the local schools and his legal education in the law school of the Northwestern university.

He has been county judge for twenty years and during that time has done wonderful work for the underprivileged children of Lake county.

Judge Perry L. Persons

The wide-reaching influence of this work will never be known only by him who has put it into the hearts of such men as Judge Persons to do his work on earth.

It has been my privilege to know Judge Persons for about forty years and during that time I have been inspired by the friendship that exists between us and I believe I can say that what little effort I may be putting forth for the good of Lake county and its overburdened and unjustly burdened taxpayers is largely due to our association.

Remembering him as a boy, I recall the friendship that existed between his mother and mine, who were both earnest workers in that noble organization of women known as the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Recently when talking to Judge Persons about his great work he informed me that he has received a letter from one of the girls who passed under his care and was sheltered in the fine detention home situated in Waukegan. This letter informed him that she had just graduated from college. He said it made him feel very happy to know that, and he was writing her a letter of interest and congratulation.

Judge Persons is ably assisted by Mrs. Mary Funk, who for years has been the probation officer of the county court. She is helped in her work by Supervisor Frank Burke, who is chairman of the committee in charge of the detention home.

Judge Person's work as county judge is most exacting for he has not only the unfortunate children to shelter and protect but he has also all of the insane cases to dispose of, and the violations of the prohibition law are under the jurisdiction of his court to a large extent. This brings him into the criminal sphere of judiciary supervision.

He also has the special assessment work all over the county to pass upon and when one realizes the wisdom that is necessary in attending to all of these things, one sometimes wonders that he does this important work as well as he does.

Twenty years' service! The writer, in view of this twenty years' service, sincerely hopes that Judge Persons may live to hold this same position vigorously for twenty years more, because of its great importance to the well-being of the 100,000 people of Lake county.

In connection with these few words that we are privileged to speak for a worthy official we shall pay tribute to Mrs. Funk, who has for many years been a mother to so many unfortunate children.

Mrs. Funk is an ideal mother to these detention home kiddies. Her early womanhood was occupied as a teacher in the public schools. Her value as a probation officer was found by Judge Persons more than ten years ago and it is largely due to her love for these unfortunate young folks that we can now say we have one of the best detention homes in the state of Illinois.

I wish you could have been with me when I visited the detention home a few days ago for the first time. In company with Supervisor Burke, and could see the home as it is. There is nothing to indicate a prison or any restraint of any sort. It is just a plain home and as the result the children who are receiving the care there do not have the feeling of being under the restraints exercised by law. There are no bars, no hard beds, no bread and water, no harsh scolding, nothing that would give a feeling of helplessness or fear to most children, especially the sensitive, and when they leave the home there are very few that have not benefited by being there.

I was very much interested when Mr. Burke, whom I have known for fifty years, and who takes a real father's interest in these poor children and the home, informed me that all they did was done last year at a cost of approximately $5,000 and that their budget was the only budget that had a balance in the treasury at the end of their fiscal year.

I would suggest that everybody interested in this noble work take the first opportunity that they can to pay a visit to this important and worthy institution. It is different from any other institution of its kind in the state of Illinois because it is a real home and in no sense a place of vigorous legal restraint.

County Taxpayers Are Organizing

There is in process of organization a Lake County Taxpayers Federation.

The constituency of this federation will be representatives from various permanent taxpayers associations or improvement clubs with non-conflicting jurisdictions. Any body or any organization believing in such a federation or clearing house for county matters and for developing policies and suggestions for its various constituent bodies is requested to send this paper its name and address, and if an organization, its membership and objectives and something as to its age, what it has accomplished, or is now working on.

As soon as a representative group from various parts of the county can be ascertained, a conference will be called to discuss and to go more fully into the advantages of such a federation, and concrete steps will then be taken for the selection of a secretary and the establishing of a preliminary organization.

This paper would be pleased to receive communications from taxpayers of Lake county with ideas as to the advisability of such a federation and stating matters that could be looked into to the interest of the taxpayers as well as the suggestions of matters that the federation might investigate or promote to the advantage of the taxpayers of Lake county.

There is no reason why the taxpayers should not be interested in forcing the development of the public's business with the same efficiency, and require the same value for their dollar, as is developed and required by properly organized private business interests. It is self-evident that it cannot be accomplished by any individual taxpayers working independently, nor can it be accomplished by independent taxpayers' associations working independently. "In union there is strength" and if a majority favors a taxpayers federation, then Lake county should have such a federation.

Your views are solicited. At least send us your name and address and say you approve.

Too many times our best leaders do not voluntarily come forward. The office has to seek the man. Therefore, if you have a man in your community who should be a leader in this movement, it might be well for you to send in his name, address and a statement as to why his leadership should be solicited.

We expect to have many letters in answer to this appeal, so if it is possible, kindly relieve us of some work by making your letters short and to the point. If possible kindly have your letters typewritten and use only one side of the paper.

Address your communication to the Lake County Tax Editor, c/o Antioch News, Antioch, Illinois.

ACCOUNTANTS BID FOR COUNTY AUDIT

What competing auditors offered in the work of this year's audit for Lake county is disclosed in the following letters from two well known and reputable accounting firms. The bids of these firms were not considered by the supervisors, as Mr. Sims was re-employed for the twentieth year.

June 4, 1931.
Mr. Lew A. Hendee, County Clerk,
Lake County,
Waukegan, Illinois.

Dear Friend:
If the question of auditing comes up at this meeting of your Board, kindly submit this as our bid for doing your work for Fifteen Hundred Dollars for a one year audit. If you have more than this, kindly write us and we will give you as close a bid as is consistent with good work.

We audit in a number of our best counties and we know you would like our work. We shall be pleased to send you names or letters so that you can investigate us thoroughly.

We deliver our reports in person, thoroughly explaining them to the Supervisors and also act in with your Committees that need our help. It is our aim to serve you and we leave nothing undone that will help you and your Board.

If we can be of any assistance to you or any of your officials, feel perfectly free to write us fully and we will do our best to answer your problem without cost to you.

Thanking you personally for presenting this communication to your Board, we are,

Sincerely yours,
M. B. COKER,
Peoria Audit Bureau.

Macomb, Ill.,
June 6, 1931.

To the Honorable Chairman and Members of the Board of Supervisors of Lake County, Illinois.

Gentlemen:
We will make a complete and thorough audit of the books and records of account of all your county officers, as required by the County Audit Law, for the year ending December 1, 1931, and December 1, 1932, for the sum of Seventeen Hundred Fifty and No/100 dollars, which sum shall constitute the total cost of the audit to your county and shall include all charges for per diem and traveling expenses of accountants engaged on the audit.

The services contemplated under the terms of this proposal shall be a complete and thorough audit, with a verification of the financial transactions of all the county officers as shown by the records. We will also make a careful survey of all the business transactions of the county and

An Open Letter

728 North Ave.,
June 16, 1931.

President Herbert Hoover,
Washington, D. C.

What is your plain definite attitude on cancellation or revision of war debts? Do you want the U. S. tariff lowered in hope of securing European disarmament? Supplement to our June 9, 1931, letter.

Dear Mr. President:

After writing you on the 9th inst., the press carried apparently inspired articles from Washington on the war debts, a typical heading being in the Chicago Daily News: "U. S. Unchanged on Debt Stand, Capital Hears. Cancellation for Disarmament Story Unfounded, High Authority Says." However, the article intimates that our officials do not know just what the conversations have been in England between the heads of the German and British governments; all of which is digested with much salt by the average American taxpayer because in our business circles intimations are current to the general effect that Germany made very definite proposals to England—among them a conference in France to perfect a temporary European economic understanding. Then the United States is to be asked to consider reparations and war debts along with tariff barriers, the plan being to compensate the United States by European deflation in armament.

Germany is credited with warning the British that a German government of repudiation and Bolshevism is the alternative to relief for Germany, which is, of course, largely dominated by the Socialist party.

Secretary Stimson is being credited abroad with a purpose of visiting Europe to inquire into the relationship between reparations and war debts.

On June 11, 1931, the Chicago Tribune headline reads, "Castle Hints at Possible Cut in War Debts—Temporary Change Is Phrase," and on the 15th inst., the Tribune headline reads, "Wirth Predicts Drastic Cut in Reparations Debt, French Aid for Brüning Is Hinted." This German minister is quoted: "We are starting on the road toward drastic reduction in reparation payments. All necessary steps in this direction have been taken."

In Chicago financial circles, intimations are current that a financial crisis of major importance and possibly worldwide effects is impending in southeastern Europe, from which are coming family letters which indicate that men are being drafted to war with a certain country, the name of which is available to you upon request.

An economic conference of the allies on June 14 to 17, 1931, resolved, "The allies declare themselves agreed to conserve for the allied countries, before all others, their natural resources during the whole period of commercial, industrial, agricultural and maritime reconstruction, etc." The United States was not a party to this conference. Then as now there was talk of an economic union between Germany and Austria. However, the Washington press is pressing that our officials do not know that there is a proposal for a conference in France to perfect an economic understanding, apparently to include (Continued on Page Ten.)

ORGANIZATION MEET IS ANNOUNCED

The north mid-county taxpayers will meet at the community house in Grayslake, Tuesday night, June 23, at 8:30 o'clock, Daylight Saving Time. This will be an organization meeting of taxpayers in central Lake county. Able speakers who know what's what and why, will address the meet. All taxpayers should be present.

report of the committee as to whether they comply with statutory requirements. At the conclusion of the audit we will furnish the board two typewritten copies of our report, which will contain exhibits showing the revenues and expenditures of each county fund, the receipts and disbursements of each county official and their final settlement with the county for fees and other collections.

The signing or accepting of this proposal shall be considered a contract, and payment for same shall be made at the first meeting of the board following the filing and accepting of our report.

I trust this proposal will receive your favorable consideration. Respectfully submitted,
BARTON F. BOYLE,
Registered Public Accountant.

"God the Preserver of Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 14.

The Golden Text was, "The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore" (Psalms 121:5).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For the Lord giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding. He layeth up sound wisdom for the righteous: he is a buckler to them that walk uprightly. He keepeth the paths of judgment, and preserveth the way of his saints" (Proverbs 2:6-8).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and Life" (p. 215).

On Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, our Sunday conference will be held with Dr. Moore, our district superintendent, presiding. All members of the official boards are urged to be present for the conference.

The Epworth League meets each Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the church. Miss Reta Hawkins will be the leader next week. The Thimble Bee society meets each Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was held this week at the home of Mrs. Elberta Straghan and was in the form of an afternoon social. The Boy Scouts meet each Thursday evening, at 7:30.

A drive in the interest of the Salvation Army is soon to be put on in the local community. A local board is in the process of organization, which will conduct the drive. This board will meet on Friday evening at the grade school building at 8 o'clock to further plans for the campaign. There are ten outstanding reasons why the Salvation Army merits our support. First, because of its management representatives; second, the soundness of its principles; third, it is non-sectarian; fourth, it is efficiently organized; fifth, it is humanitarian; sixth, it is practical; seventh, its wide endorsement; eighth, its sincerity and frankness; ninth, it is constructive; and, tenth, it reaches a class otherwise neglected.

Other towns and villages of Lake county have responded to the need of the Salvation Army and have conducted campaigns in their respective communities. It is hoped that Antioch will not fall in doing its share toward bearing the financial burden of this worthy organization.

WEST SIDERS WIN SERIES

The 7-game series between the East and West Side business men ended last Thursday afternoon in favor of the West Side. The teams had been consistently even throughout the series, and before Thursday's game were three up. A 6-4 win by the West Side gave them the championship and closed the series.

The East Side team seeded by Otis to Klass to oppose Paschendale Friday took the game, 14-9.

ANTIOCH CATCHER GETS TRYOUT WITH A MINOR LEAGUE

Frank Turk of Allendale, star catcher for the Antioch town team, has been solicited by scouts of the Three-Eye minor league to report for a tryout with the Quincy team in two weeks.

His heavy hitting drew the attention of these scouts as well as his great work behind the plate.

Members of the town team, although reluctant to lose Turk as catcher, are backing him solidly, with great hopes for his advancement in the sports world. He was graduated from the local high school this June, and shows a fine record in athletics during his school years.

He will play two more games with Antioch before the tryout.

FAMOUS RADIO STARS COMING TO TWIN LAKES

Art Kassel's Band Will Play at Popular Ballroom June 20

Art Kassel and his radio "Kassels in the Air" will come to the Twin Lakes Ballroom Saturday, June 20, to play for their numerous radio and record fans, according to an announcement by the Music Corporation of America. Of the many orchestras which have been on the air during the last few years, none, perhaps, has been more popular for entertaining music and humor.

Art Kassel is a saxophonist. He is a clarinetist. He is a showman. He is a humorist. He combines all the qualities necessary for excellence in his field with an ability to mold a band and direct it equalled by few other conductors.

When he was a boy, Kassel wanted to be a commercial artist. In fact, he was one until the lure of music drew him from one form of art to another. Then with only a saxophone and a head full of good ideas, he started his own band.

Dancers, audiences and radio listeners recognized that this young man had something good. It was not too jazzy, too "modern" for people to understand. It was "homey," understandable, easy to listen to, and it was, even more than dance music, entertaining.

That is why Kassel and his radio "Kassels in the Air" were a success the moment they went over the air. Art Kassel knew what his public wanted. And daily the mail brought new letters of admiration and appreciation from listeners who had been fed up with ordinary music.

To those who dance and to those who like to listen, Art Kassel will be the ideal band when he plays at the Twin Lakes Ballroom.

Snoring as a Fine Art

Both sexes snore alike, says a professor, and the sex of a snorer cannot be determined by the sound. In a pullman sleeper, however, one is always fairly safe in assuming that the sounds actually issue from a human snorer, and not from a hippopotamus strangling in a mud hole, although the opposite often seems more probable.—Detroit News.

FORMER WILMOT H. S. PRINCIPAL GETS LAW DEGREE

Wilmot Girl Graduates from Whitewater Normal with Very High Honors

Copied from a La Crosse paper—
(Head) "Local Man Makes Splendid Record in Law School; John E. Mulder Will Graduate from State University Next July. John Eldon Mulder, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mulder, 822
Rose street, will graduate from the Wisconsin university law school in July with second highest honors. He was one of ten senior law students at the Wisconsin law school to be elected to Colf, national honorary legal scholastic fraternity, for scholastic proficiency as a law student.

"Mr. Mulder is a graduate of La Crosse Central high school, and of the La Crosse State Teachers' college, where he graduated with honors in music and forensics. In the fall of 1924 he became a member of the faculty of the Union Free high school at Wilmot, Wis., and in the middle of the year succeeded to the principalship, which position he held until 1928. Meanwhile he spent his summers at the University of Iowa, receiving the degree of bachelor of art in August, 1928.

"Since that time he has attended the Wisconsin law school, maintaining a consistently high scholastic average, while earning his way entirely. It has been reported that his record is the highest ever attained by a La Crosse man at the Wisconsin law school."

Mr. and Mrs. James Carey and daughters were at Whitewater for the annual graduation exercises of the Whitewater normal Friday morning.
Mary Daly was one of the twelve honor graduates in a class of over a hundred. Miss Daly has been engaged as seventh and eighth grade teacher at Sullivan, Wis., for the coming year.

The annual Children's Day exercises were held at the M. E. church Sunday evening, when a large crowd witnessed the program. The church was beautifully decorated with seasonal flowers.

Mrs. H. I. Pratt in Her Prize Winning Garden

When 650 delegates, representing 111 garden clubs from Maine to California, attended the annual meeting of the Garden Club of America at Glen Cove, L. I., Mrs. Harold Irving Pratt, president of the North Country Garden club of Long Island, entertained the guests at tea and at the same time her garden of azaleas and tulips was adjudged the best in achievement for 1931. For this honor Mrs. Pratt received the Emily B. Renwick medal.

The annual bazaar of the Lutheran church will be held at the parish hall Wednesday afternoon and evening, June 24. Aprons and fancy work of all kinds will be sold. A hot dinner will be served, beginning at 5 o'clock.

Gustav Christiansen, of Union Grove, and Helen Neathous, of Lake Villa, were united in marriage at high noon Saturday at the Peace Evangelical Lutheran church by Reverend S. Jodelo, the pastor. Mr. and Mrs. Christiansen left, following the ceremony, on a trip to Montana and other points of interest in the West.

The Wilmot graded school closed the first of last week. Miss Bico and he upper grade pupils enjoyed a picnic at Fox River park Tuesday. Four receiving diplomas from the eighth grade were Corinne Lake, Ruby Memler, Raymond Scholds and John Beine-man. The primary pupils, under Miss Hope, accompanied by several of the children's parents, motored to Washington park at Milwaukee, Wednesday. Patrick Moran has been very ill and under the care of Dr. H. C. Darby.

Wilbur Lewis, of Milwaukee, spent several days the last of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burroughs.

Mr. and Mrs. John Staley, of Chicago, are making an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Faulkner.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gauger and son, Harold, motored to Waupaca recently.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Ellison and Mr. and Mrs. Olson were in Racine Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mulder, of La Crosse, J. E. Mulder and C. J. Weigel, of Madison, were Saturday to Monday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burroughs.

The Eastern Star held a party Tuesday evening in honor of the members having birthdays in June.

Walter Klein made rather a disastrous trip to Chicago on business Thursday. His first misfortune was to run out of gas on the trip in. He was ined $30 after being arrested for not carrying an Illinois license on his truck. After his truck was loaded for the return trip it sunk into a hole on the street when the paving gave away under it, and one the way home a flat tire completed his list for a perfect day.

Irene Holtdorf, of Bristol, is a guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. August Holtdorf.

Esther and Viola Kanis and Beatrice and Zora Nowell left Wednesday on the teachers' excursion of four days to Washington, D. C., and other points of interest in the East.

Grace and Blanche Carey were in Milwaukee for the day, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wirtz and family, of Kenosha, moved into the George Dean home the first of the week. Mr. Wirtz is in charge of the Moulding-Brownell gravel pit.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cairns spent Sunday at Wonder lake and McHenry.

Mrs. Walter Rasch entertained at a birthday party for June Pacey on Monday in honor of June's tenth birthday. Doris and Virginia Neuman, Eunice Stoxen, Rhoda Frank and Geraldine Higgins were guests.

Lester Pacey is spending a week at Woodstock, with Mr. and Mrs. Earle Shales.

Walter Rasch was ill and under the care of Dr. Bennett of Burlington the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Swenson and children, of Kenosha, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Swenson and children, of Lake Villa, were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Swenson.

ARTICLE No. 16

Here is a most interesting hand that aroused considerable comment among the members of a well-known New York card club. When it was played, the declarer failed to go game and his partner didn't hesitate to call his attention to the fact that he had missed an opportunity of making a most ingenious play and one that would have scored game. The declarer couldn't figure how it could be done, even after he was assured that the play was possible. Here are all four hands so the readers of this article will be given an advantage that the declarer didn't possess, but even with this advantage the solution is not easy. Think it over carefully and compare your solution with the one that will appear in the next article.

Spades — none

No score, rubber game. Z is playing the final hand and the final bid is four hearts, both at Auction and Contract. A leads the king of clubs, which holds the trick and follows with the four of diamonds. How can Z now play the hand so that he can score game against any defense? Solution in the next article.

Hearts — A
Clubs — A, 6, 2
Diamonds — K
Spades — 7, 4, 2

There are no trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y Z win seven of the eight tricks against any defense? Solution: Z should lead the king of diamonds and overtake in Y's hand with the ace. Y should now lead the queen of clubs, which B can either cover or pass. If he covers, Z plays the ace and leads back a club, winning in Y's hand with the ten. Y should now lead the jack of diamonds, which B can win with the queen. No matter what B leads, Y Z must win the balance of the tricks as Y has the eight of clubs as a re-entry for his two diamonds. If at trick two, B refuses to cover the queen of clubs, Y should lead the jack of diamonds at trick three. B must win this trick and, no matter what he leads, Y Z must win the balance of the tricks. If B leads a heart, for example, Z wins the trick and leads the ace of clubs. This drops B's king and thus makes Y's ten of clubs a re-entry for his two set-up diamonds. In either case, therefore, Y Z must win seven of the eight tricks against any defense.

Success of Dinner
Often Rests Upon
Accompanying Foods

Selection of Side Dishes
Presents Problem for The Hostess

In planning a company dinner, one usually has no difficulty in deciding what to serve for the main course, the salad and the dessert. But the vegetables and the salad accompaniments, such as wafers or cookies, are not so obliging—somehow the hostess feels that the success of her dinner rests upon her selection of these accompanying foods. Something different is what every alert housewife eternally strives for.

The following recipes have been chosen to help fill that need.

Cream of Corn Souffle.

Melt one tablespoon butter or bacon fat in a saucepan. Put one onion and one green pepper through a food chopper and cook until the onion is golden brown. Put the contents of one can of corn through a food chopper, and add to the mixture. Pour in one pint milk, or one cup evaporated milk and one cup water. Cream together two tablespoons flour, two tablespoons butter, or fat, one teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon celery salt. Dilute with a little hot liquid. Pour into the hot mixture and stir until the mixture comes to a boil. Then add one slice lemon, and let it boil up once. Remove the lemon, and serve in cups with cheese fingers.

Peas are one of the most popular and inexpensive of vegetables. Here is a dish of meat and peas, for instance, which will serve four people and which can be had almost anywhere at a cost of less than 50 cents:

Frankfurters with Parsley Peas.

Heat the contents of an 11-ounce can of peas for about three minutes, drain, add one tablespoon butter, and season with salt and pepper to taste. Pour into a shallow baking dish. Grill or fry eight frankfurters (one pound) and place on top of the peas like the spokes of a wheel. Sprinkle with two tablespoons parsley, and re-heat in oven a few minutes.

And here is a dish of peas alone which will serve four people at a cost of not more than 12 cents:

English Peas.

Add one and one-half tablespoons vinegar, one and one-half tablespoons sugar and two tablespoons crushed fresh mint to the contents of an 11-ounce can of peas, and simmer gently for 10 minutes.

Chicken Dressing.

For a succulent stuffing, the following recipe may be used: First of all be sure to brown your bread crumbs in the oven before mixing them with the other ingredients. Then moisten with about one-quarter cup of chicken broth and mix together one quart of browned bread crumbs, one-quarter cup butter, one cup celery, one cup chestnuts broken in pieces, and salt and pepper to taste. You'll find this far better than the ordinary chicken dressing, and it will make your guests wonder how you manage to make your roast chicken taste so good.

Cheese wafers are delicious served with meat, fish or vegetable salad.

Hot Cheese Wafers.

Spread long narrow wafers with butter, then with a mixture of one-half cup grated American cheese, one tablespoon India relish, and one-half teaspoon prepared mustard. Sprinkle with paprika and brown delicately under the flame of a broiler. Serve on a plate with a hot roll cover.

Fruit salads are enhanced by serving dainty sandwiches and cookies.

Apple Butter and Nut Sandwiches. Cut thin slices of bread into rounds or squares. Spread thinly with butter, then with apple butter. In the center of each sandwich place half an English walnut or pecan, and make a border of chopped nuts around the sandwich.

Rice Flake Drop Cookies.

Cream together three-fourths cup butter, one cup sugar and two eggs, well beaten. Sift two cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon salt, and add to creamed mixture alternately with four tablespoons milk. Then add one cup floured raisins, one and one-half cups rice flakes, one cup nuts and one teaspoon vanilla. Drop from teaspoon on greased baking sheet, and bake for 10 minutes in a moderate oven.

TROUSERS ARE MOST CHIC FOR A BEACH PARTY

Paris has nothing on girls in the Chain O' Lakes region when it comes to sporting gay trousers along the beach. This season, thus far, has revealed new departures from the ever-popular "sailor pants," including the beach suit which is cut low in front and with a low-cut back, or straps. The trousers are wide, floppy, and of every design and color, stripes appearing most often. A soft belt, tied like a pajama belt, lends a pirate effect to the costume.

Study Changes In Our Eating Habits

Increase in Use of Dairy Products and Green
Food Is Shown

Sharply different from those of her mother and grandmother is the table Mrs. Antioch sets for her family.

A study of the American diet of the present-day and that of twenty-five years ago provides some interesting comparisons.

To begin with, Mrs. Antioch provides her family with a great variety of food undreamed of by her forebears. Fruits and vegetables which at the turn of the century were delicacies for a short period of the year only, are now, thanks to perfected canning, refrigeration and other preserving methods, available in great abundance at all seasons. Corn meal, the great standby of former generations, is not at all prominent on the present-day table. Flour products, such as bread, cakes, etc., are not nearly as much in evidence as in other days. On the other hand, her table abounds in all forms of dairy products, butter, cheese, milk, ice cream, and the like. Her sugar bowl is much fuller than it used to be, and the meat platter larger than those served by her forebears.

This mention of meat suggests the sensational gains in popularity made by that most humble of food articles—sausage. In the last decade particularly, its vogue has grown until it competes with ham, bacon, steaks, chops and roasts for first place in the favor of the consuming public.

Reverses Sometimes
Bring Out the Real
Character of Child

"Play Ball!"

That cry is heard often by parents who own or reside near a baseball lot. The cry that brings the boys hustling, eager to be in the midst of play, each at his own post, then might be changed to "play the game." How often do games end in argument, because someone has not "played the game" squarely when the odds turned against them!

This "playing the game" is not always understood for what it really is. The following selection will show the influence that the example of a square-shooting parent or instructor may have upon young minds.

A Scoutmaster Saves the Day.

For weeks the troop has been engaged in expectant preparation for its Parents' Night program. Everything was in order. The walls were filled with display—the Scouts with enthusiasm—and the tables with good things to eat.

The toastmaster was well under way. The crowd sang with that respectably restrained enthusiasm which typifies a Parents' Night program. Then Jimmie Davis arose to give his oration. This was the moment to which he had looked forward for many weeks. As he arose he caught a glimpse of the beaming face of his mother and of his father's stolid assured countenance. He waxed more eloquent, conscious that his hearers were paying a high tribute to him by their careful attention.

A Boy's Apparent Failure.
Then something happened. The world seemed to swim before him—he slowed down—faltered—stopped. His face flushed, his hands sought each other frantically and in desperation he looked helplessly toward his Scoutmaster.

And ever prepared, having heard that boyish masterpiece rehearsed again and again, the boy's leader supplied the missing words and the lad went on. But somehow it was different now. The masterpiece had been marred.

Jimmie paused again—and the Scoutmaster prompted him again. For the remaining two minutes, the oration seemed more the Scoutmaster's than the boy's.

But Jimmie finished it. In the heart of the lad who sat down, knowing that he had failed, there was heavy load. Chagrin was plainly written on the face of the boy's mother, and a twitch of the father's face indicated a pained consciousness of shame.

The audience applauded in a perfunctory way, sorry for and pitying the boy whom they thought had failed.

Victory from Defeat.

But the Scoutmaster was on his feet. His quiet eyes twinkled. All listened tensely for he did not talk loudly. What was he saying—

"I am more happy than any of you can possibly understand because of what has just happened. You have seen a boy make a glorious victory out of what might have been a miserable failure."

"Jimmie had his chance to quit. To have quit would have been easy. But to finish the job even in the face of 200 people, required the highest kind of bravery and courage I know."

"You may some day hear a better oratorical effect, but I am confident that you will never see a finer demonstration of the spirit of our troop than Jimmie has just given you—to play the game even under difficulties!"

The people thundered their applause now. Jimmie's mother sat straight and proud. The old look of assurance was back on the face of the boy's father. The entire group was enthusiastic again and Jimmie, with a lump in his throat, said something to the friend beside him that sounded like, "Gee, I can be that kind of a Scoutmaster some day—"

Famous Decorations

Parts of the ceiling and the side panels in the west main entrance of the second story of the library of congress are painted on the walls. The Blaisdell mural in the dome of the library of congress was painted directly on the wall. In other instances the canvases were executed elsewhere and later placed in position.

TOPPY'S TRAVELS

Synopsis: Toppo leaves home to follow his canary. After many adventures, Mr. Frog and Toy, the dewdrop, cause the Cushions to fight the Pillows, who have invaded the land of the Cloud-Queen. The Pillows, however, seem to be winning from the Cushions, so Toppo sets forth to train an army of Cloud-People. He gets lost, meets a horrible, laughing falcon, and finally is about to be captured by a big Pillow guard. Continue the story—

The boy lay in the dust for several minutes, lost to everything. But when he became aware that nothing was happening to him, he cautiously stirred, and glanced about. To his bewilderment, there was the falcon, laughing noisily, dancing about the poor Pillow guard, and teasing him unmercifully. In his claw, Toppo's precious sword was clutched.

After worrying the Pillow into a rage, the falcon gave him a sharp poke with the sword, saying with a fiendish laugh, "Be off with you."

The Pillow needed no second admonition. He sped away.

Toppo wondered if the bird would torment him, now, but was astonished when he strutted proudly back to him, handed him his sword, and cackled delightedly, "Well, we fixed him, didn't we?"

Toppo was forced to protest, in honesty, "Oh, you did it all. That was wonderful."

"Wonderful, wonderful, I'll say it was wonderful, wonderful fun," chanted the falcon.

After a time the bird asked, "Why don't you do that funny step some more? That's fun, too."

"I can't. I'm too tired and hungry."

"Hungry? Well, I declare. He's hungry, hungry, hungry." And with a rattling laugh he flapped himself away.

"I'm so glad he is gone," Toppo exclaimed. "But it doesn't make much difference now."

But he was not gone. Soon he came flapping back, and in his claws was a quantity of tempting food.

Toppo snatched it eagerly, and, as he ate, felt the strength flow back into his body. The bird watched him eat with keen amusement, repeating queer little phrases.

As soon as he was refreshed Toppo crawled into a heap of leaves and fell asleep.

When he awoke, the bird was staring at him with a puzzled expression on his face, which was, miraculously, not laughing, but very serious.

As soon as he felt the boy's eyes upon him, the falcon looked away, and a grin spread over his features like a mask.

Toppo rose, and began trying to pick up the trail once more. The bird followed in his footsteps, or flapped ahead, with curious shakes of his body.

After they had proceeded quite a way, he asked, "Well, are we still lost?"

"Still lost!"

"What are we trying to find?"

"It's a secret," Toppo told him.

"Oh, we have a secret," cried the bird, joyously. "We have a secret."

"You mean I have," corrected Toppo. "You don't know anything about it."

"Neither do you," laughed the falcon.

This was true, and Toppo hung his head.

"I would tell you if I was sure that you wouldn't tell, and were not an enemy."

Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks cost less to operate

It is a matter of record, among more and more large fleet operators, that Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks give a lower transportation cost than any other truck of equal capacity in the market.

These firms are finding, through experience, that Chevrolet sedan deliveries are capable of 20 miles or better, to the gallon of gasoline; that Chevrolet 1½-ton trucks are making fuel records which are relatively just as high. That it costs very little to keep Chevrolet trucks in first-class working order. That Chevrolet service charges on both parts and labor are exceptionally low. That the active life of Chevrolet trucks extends well past the 50,000 mileage mark.

To place your hauling on a minimum-cost basis—and keep it there—put Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks to work. A wide variety of Chevrolet-built bodies is now available. And delivered prices of Chevrolet trucks, complete and ready for work, are based on low chassis-cost and low body-cost, plus only reasonable charges for handling and financing.

LAKE VILLA PASTOR RECEIVES DEGREE

Plans Are Being Completed for Purchasing a New Fire Truck

The Alspaugh family has been in Evanston a number of times during the past week for various activities connected with the graduating class, of which Mr. Alspaugh is a member. Sunday afternoon they attended the baccalaureate services there, and on Monday, the graduation took place, when Rev. Alspaugh received his bachelor's degree.

The volunteer fire department had another meeting last week, and firemen from Antioch were present to help with organization. Plans are being made for the purchase of a fire truck.

Miss Bess Lawler drove up from her home at Cortland, Ill., Saturday and remained until Monday with the C. B. Hamlin family.

Mrs. Alice Phalen, who has been with the John Cribb family for a few weeks, returned to her home in Kenosha last Saturday, for about two weeks' rest.

Reports from Mrs. Cribb at Prairie du Chien hospital are encouraging and say that she seems to be gaining in strength.

George Helm and Phyllis spent the week with Mr. Helm's parents, near Crystal Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Wilton and son, of Chicago, spent Sunday with Mrs. Nellie Wilton and Howard and Miss Anna Selck, who lives with them, visited her sister, Mrs. George Helm.

The Davis family, of La Grange, were out to spend the week-end at their cottage in West View addition.

Mrs. Carl Seeger, of Waukegan, spent Tuesday with Mrs. Paul Avery.

Word recently received by friends of Mrs. Mary H. Miller states that she is enjoying her visit in the West very much, and is now in Los Angeles, Calif.

Children's Day will be observed at the church here next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, the regular church hour, and you are very welcome. Parents whose children are in Sunday school are especially invited.

Mrs. E. L. Bradley accompanied her husband on his trip to Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wood are at Bradley house during their absence.

Our village was saddened Monday by news of the death of D. W. Hall, who has been a summer resident of the north shore of Fox lake for many years, and who has just completed a beautiful home on his grounds there. On July Fourth of last year Mr. Hall broke his leg, and since then has suffered paralysis, which finally caused his death Sunday night. The funeral was held from his home in Chicago, Wednesday.

Ruth Avery is spending the week with Mrs. Harold Druce, at Grayslake.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Potter, of Waukegan, spent last Wednesday here and attended the supper given by the Ladies' Aid at the church. Mrs. Annie Webster, Mr. Potter's sister, who lives in Maywood, was also up for the supper, with friends from Maywood.

Paul Avery is driving a new Graham-Paige car.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cannon, who have been living at Petite lake park since leaving the garage here, have recently moved to the Mundt cottage, on Grand avenue, near the J. McCredie farm.

Mrs. Leo Barnstable entertained her bridge club at her home last Thursday at a luncheon. Bridge followed. Mrs. Fred Hamlin won first prize, Mrs. Al Maier, second prize, and Mrs. Frank Nader won consolation.

HICKORY FAMILY LEAVES ON TRIP

John Ruder Is Surprised by His Friends on Birthday Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barber and son left early Wednesday morning on a motor trip to Chetek, Wis., to visit relatives there. They expect to be gone a week or ten days.

Friends and neighbors of John Ruder gave him a surprise party at his Thursday evening, in honor of birthday.

The Cheerful Stitches held their third meeting Friday at the school house. Lena Pedersen and Agnes Nelson gave a talk on "Care of Clothing," and Ruth Wells and Rose Wolz gave a talk on "Stain Removals." The afternoon was spent in singing out and making princesses, enjoying the cake brought by Mrs. Wolz, and then playing out-of-door games. Visitors were Miss Shirley Hollenbeck and Myrtle Halgreen. The next meeting will be next Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Jack O'Hare and children, of River Forest, called at George Johnson's Sunday afternoon. Then accompanied by Mrs. Tillotson, they went up to Sturtevant, Wis., and called on Mr. O'Hare Sr. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Harrison, of Waukegan, spent Friday afternoon evening at O. Pullen's. Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Kennedy, Roy, and Harold Kennedy, were

WHEN YOU'RE INSIDE LOOKING OUT

THE second hand on the electric clock ticks off the last minute of the hour, the radio announcer leans closer to his microphone, the orchestra leader raises his hand, and, then—as the engineer, behind the window of the control room, gives the signal. . . "Good evening, My friends!"—and another major broadcast is on the air. Only the fortunate few have been privileged to witness a broadcast from the inner sanctum, where the engineer sits, with one eye glued to his sensitive meters and the other on the performers outside the window. The above picture was taken recently during a broadcast of the Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra. Just outside the window may be seen Edward Thorger, announcer, and back of him, B. A. Rolfe with a few of the musicians, who make up this popular orchestra of over fifty veteran instrumentalists, grouped at the microphones. It is a thrilling experience to watch the man at the control board as he listens, supercritically, to the music which comes out a loudspeaker in his control room, just as it comes out of loud speakers in a million homes. He must maintain just the right balance of tone and volume, and guide the fluctuating pulse of the broadcast, while the production man, standing at his left, stop-watch in hand, sees that everything moves on pre-arranged schedule, so that no flaws will mar the entertainment that brings pleasure to a nation.

Sunday dinner guests of the Carl Hughes family, at Millburn.

Miss Florence Wilsie, Mrs. Earl Edwards, and Mrs. John Dickey and son, from River Forest, and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Webb, of Millburn, called on Mrs. H. A. Tillotson and Caryl, Tuesday afternoon.

Harold and Leo Thompson spent Saturday evening in Kenosha.

Mr. and Mrs. David Neveler and daughters and friends, from Union Grove, Wis., called on David Pullen and family Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Preston, of Sterling, Ill., visited at Joe Smith's Sunday afternoon.

Miss Lillian Wells is visiting relatives and friends in Chicago and Maywood.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bishop and Malcolm and Eloise, of Kenosha, spent Sunday afternoon at George Tillotson's.

Clare Scoville, of Kenosha, will spend the summer vacation at H. A. Tillotson's.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Garrett, of Millburn, called on friends around these corners Sunday afternoon.

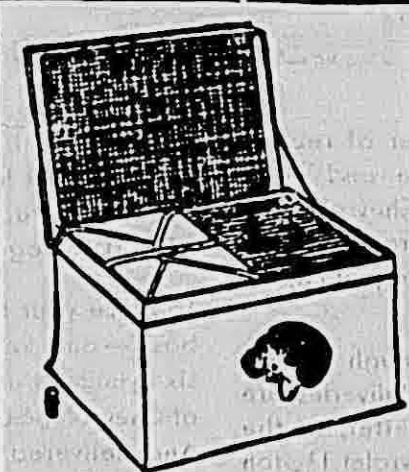

Wilson King is spending this week in Kenosha.

Alfred Petersen, of Wheaton, Ill., visited the Curtis Wells home Sunday.

Mr. and Gaylord Dibelbliss and daughter, Dorothy, of Enid, Okla., and Mrs. Dibelbliss and son, John, of Zion, called on Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Thompson Wednesday evening. Mr. G. Dibelbliss and Mr. Thompson were schoolmates and had not seen each other for over twenty years.

If all the brooms in Antioch were laid end to end, it is estimated that 99.6% of the girls would let 'em lay.

See us for plans about adding a sleeping porch to your home. That's one improvement you can make that will pay real dividends!

And if all the fish stories we've heard this spring were put into a book, we still wouldn't believe one word of 'em.

Is there a building on your place that is not paying its way? It could be converted into a useful building at small cost. These are the days of modernization and no building should be permitted to stand idle.

A specialist is a bird you can always distinguish by his bill.

We pride ourselves on the high quality of our building supplies.

When a man says he can sell you roofing cheaper than your local dealer, isn't it a good plan actually to compare prices before you buy? The local dealer will be glad to give you his price, and to compare his roofing with any man's. (Traveling men won't let you compare their roofing with that of local dealers.) And he'll stay around to see that it makes good.

One modern farm building where two old barns stood before! A combination machine shed and garage where once stood an old and obsolete hog house! Those are the modern touches that farmers are making in their building equipment.

Chapter VI

NEW BROOMS

YEARS AGO a truck that looked something like a fire engine may have thundered up to your home. One of the drivers would have run a long hose into the house. There would have been great excitement—but no fire. The truck belonged to a "housecleaning company"—offered pioneer vacuum cleaning service to homes in northern Illinois.

Efficient as this service was, it did not become popular. So twice a year in most homes the carpet beater came off its peg in the attic. Rugs were hung over clotheslines and punished. The whole family took turns pounding, until backs ached and hands blistered. Pictures were stripped from walls; floors and woodwork were scoured; furniture was shrouded with sheets. Hasty meals were snatched from the kitchen table. The ordeal lasted a week—recurred every spring and fall. Between seasons, the broom and the carpet-sweeper stood at attention behind the closet door. And a feather duster was always ready to remove the dust they stirred up from the whatnot with its colored shells and World's Fair souvenirs.

When electric lights first came to northern Illinois, cleaning became more important. It was easier to see into corners and under the sideboard. Homemakers toiled harder than ever.

But soon there was a new development. Around 1910, newspapers and magazines began to picture electric vacuum cleaners for the home—small editions of the old air-pump engines. They screwed into an electric socket and although they were noisy and heavy and clumsy, with the motor and dust-catcher trailing behind on a little cart, they were far superior to the broom and the carpet-sweeper.

And improvements were made. The bulkiness was reduced. A motor-driven brush was added to the suction nozzle to make it more efficient. The "trailer" and the nozzle were combined into one unit. Dusting equipment for furniture and draperies became optional attachments.

In this new cleaner, modern women have found a release from their periodic housecleaning panics. The broom now plays second fiddle to an electric motor that purrs over rugs, noses down into overstuffed furniture, cleaning them quickly and thoroughly every week. The national institution known as "spring housecleaning" is becoming obsolete.

The Public Service Company has been an influential factor in making electric cleaners, as well as dozens of other labor-savers, available to homes in northern Illinois. As one of its foremost obligations to customers, it has taken on the responsibility of offering them the best appliances obtainable. It has worked closely with manufacturers, requiring them to eliminate weaknesses in their products. And every gas and electric appliance offered for sale in the Company's stores has passed rigid laboratory tests, is guaranteed to give long service.

MILLBURN GIRL WEDS MAN FROM UNION GROVE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hansen Are the Parents of a Baby Daughter

The wedding of Miss Helen Louise Neahous, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Neahous and Gustav Christiansen, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Christiansen, of Union Grove, was solemnized Saturday noon at the Peace Evangelical church in Wilmet. The Reverend S. A. Jedele performed the ceremony. They were attended by the bride's sister, Mrs. Thomas Cosgrove, of Forest Park, and Louis Christiansen, of Union Grove, brother of the groom.

The bride was very charmingly attired in white chiffon with a bridal veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid also appeared to advantage in a blue flowered chiffon, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

After the ceremony, a reception for thirty-two was held at the bride's home. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Christiansen, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Christiansen, of Union Grove; Ray, Jedele and daughter, Rhoda, of Wilmet; Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Cosgrove, of Forest Park; Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Stoehert, of Elmwood Park; and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Stoehert, Miss Lois Warren and Mrs. Catharine D. Adams, of Chicago.

The young couple left for a three week honeymoon visit in Miles City, Mont., where the groom's sister lives.

The bride is a graduate of the Antioch township high school, and of the Grogg business college in Chicago. Before her marriage she was employed with the Chas. Johnson Contracting Co. Mr. Christiansen is a graduate of the Warren township high school, and has been engaged in farming with his brother, at Union Grove, where he and his wife expect to make their home.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hauser on Sunday. Mrs. Hauser's mother, from Camp Lake, Wis., is helping at the Hauser home.

SPECIAL—Ward Bain, former Millburn resident, died suddenly at his home in Racine Tuesday evening. Funeral services will be held today at Racine and Millburn, with interment in the Millburn cemetery.

One hundred mothers and daughters enjoyed the banquet which was given by the Parent-Teacher association at the Masonic hall last Tuesday night.

SALEM WOMAN DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

James Campbell Is Slightly Hurt in Auto Accident; Car Is Damaged

Mrs. Herman Sell passed away at her home in Salem Friday morning, after a long illness. She leaves her husband, two sons—Paul, of Milwaukee, and Frank, of Chicago; and four daughters—Mrs. Frank Kessler, of Milwaukee, Mrs. Claud Forbes and Rose, of Kenosha, and Mrs. Helen Vandenberg at home, to mourn her loss. Funeral services will be held Monday at the M. E. church, Rev. Carl Stromberg officiating, with interment in Liberty Corners cemetery.

James Campbell figured in an auto accident Wednesday. He was driving down highway 83 into this village, when a Whelle bread truck, driven by Will Kaphengst, of Kenosha, which was in front of him, slowed down to turn into a driveway. Mr. Campbell put on the brakes but lost control of his car and it turned over in the ditch. The only injury he received was a scratch on his knee. The windshield and the glass in one door were broken, and one fender was bent.

Another accident occurred Monday when Ed Krahn bent over to inspect a tire on his truck and the tire blew out, blinding him. He suffered severely for two days, but his sight is slowly returning.

Mr. and Mrs. Oto Scholer, of Kenosha, came last week to spend the summer at their cottage here on Hooker lake.

Mrs. Byron Patrick and Mrs. Elwyn Manning spent last Tuesday at Waukegan.

Mrs. Olive Mutter returned Thursday from spending two days with Mrs. Charles Burgess, of Kenosha, other places of interest. They started Mr. and Mrs. Myron Riggs returned Wednesday from a motor trip to St. Louis, Mo., where they visited the latter's parents.

Mrs. Ada Huntoon, Mrs. John Evans, Mrs. Herman Schultz, Mrs. Kate Jarnig, Mrs. Mary Acker, Mrs. Herman Schonscheck, Mrs. William Fletcher, Mrs. Roger Huntoon, Ada Burton and Mrs. James Martin, of Burlington, drove to Whitewater, where they held R. N. A. meeting at the home of Mrs. Anna Minnie. Pot luck lunch was served at noon.

Mrs. Arthur Hartnell and Mrs. Olive Mutter drove to Delevan and Elkhorn Friday and stopped at Turtle Valley Farm, where lady slipper plants are for sale.

Mrs. Holliday, of Orfordville, spent last week with Mrs. Carl Stromberg. Mrs. George Patrick, of Trevor, attended the Children's Day exercises at Salem Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sova, of Kenosha,

VERCOE'S REPORT UNSATISFACTORY

This bond issue was voted on by the people of Lake county April 29, 1930, and the sale followed immediately, but evidently was arranged for many months before the actual consummation. We wonder why.

Will Sift Bond Deal.

It is recalled at this time that the president of the Waukegan Taxpayers Association in June, 1930, after the sale by Mr. Vercoe of this entire bond issue, inquired about the details of the county clerk and was told that Mr. Vercoe had made no detailed report to him. The treasurer of Lake county was also asked about the matter and he could give no details. He said, however, upon being questioned, that Mr. Vercoe did not ask for bids on the purchase of this large bond issue. We believe this is a flagrant violation of the law and the matter will be looked into carefully.

Supervisor Vercoe's report follows in substance: He said he sold these bonds to H. C. Spear & Sons Co. of Chicago, and that they were deposited with the Northern Trust Co. of Chicago. The bonds are costing the county 5 per cent interest. To date, $142,000 of the money derived from the sale of these bonds has been used. He talked a great deal about one hand washing the other, and explained this by stating that the Northern Trust Co. or Spear & Sons Co., while they had the bonds of Lake county, deposited securities with the treasurer of Lake county to balance the account. He made a feeble attempt to explain that these securities were of the same value as the bonds, but his explanation to the representatives of the Taxpayers Association at the meeting was extremely weak.

Report Is Unsatisfactory.

Supervisor Vercoe made no attempt to give a list of these securities. He did not tell the Board whether they were mortgages on Missouri's stump lands, or Chicago apartment hotels, or Highland Park buildings. He did say, however, that these bonds were sold all at once because he thought he could get a better price for a large amount. We would like to know just how deeply individuals were personally interested in this deal and the writer is fully convinced that the taxpayers will know before the next board meeting of the Supervisors.

We believe it would be of great interest to the taxpayers of Lake county to analyze this bond selling situation in the light of the recent issue of $300,000,000 of the United States government bonds at 3 1/2 per cent, which was over-subscribed $7,200,000,000, showing that investors are anxious to get a safe place to invest their money. These government bonds are no better than Lake county bonds, for Lake county is the richest county in the state of Illinois, outside of Cook county, and if our treasurer had these bonds now, whatever would be necessary to sell for road building this year could undoubtedly be sold at from 15 to 20 points above par on a 5 per cent interest bearing basis.

I wonder if there are not several colored gentlemen in this bond issue woodpile.

Sims Is Re-Employed.

Many of the Lake county taxpayers expected the board would hire a real auditor for this year's audit of the county books. They were doomed to disappointment, however, when the board gave a contract to Mr. Sims for the twentieth time for $1,000 and an unknown amount for other expenses because Mr. Vercoe, when questioned about the contract, could not say for certain whether Mr. Sims would charge other expenses besides the $1,000.

The board was asked if there were any other proposals for audits in the books and after considerable agitation on the part of some of the Supervisors it was revealed that there were three others from auditing firms, one of which gave the details of what and how they would make an audit. A copy of this proposal is printed elsewhere on this page.

It is our impression that the firm submitting this proposal would have made too searching and too true an audit to have pleased some of those profitably interested in county affairs, but if it had been accepted it might have been worth many times the cost in informing the public in what they honestly and legally should know.

Report vs. Audit.

We have contended for a long time that Mr. Sims does not make a complete audit; he merely makes reports. When Mr. Sims read his report we noticed quite a difference between the details given by him of the various offices. The recorder's report, as read, showed receipts and disbursements, including the amount spent for postage. This was true of the sheriff's office, but the county clerk's office and the treasurer's office made no mention of postal cost and a great many other things that the law requires in a report.

Rising Praised.

At this time we cannot help thinking of the splendid reports Supervisor Rosling made of the Supervisor's business in the township of Antioch and the treasurer's report of the town of Antioch. These reports of Mr. Rosling's were absolutely right and according to law. The report of the Lake county auditor and the chairman of the board of finances of the Board of Supervisors are not given in accordance to law, and again we ask the question—Why?

We believe that when we have the proper legal eyes turned upon these conditions that Mr. Sims can be asked to give up his contract for the balance of the time that he is considered under contract.

The road engineer of Lake county made his report. This will be given in another article.

Have Change of Heart.

One of the humorous incidents of the meeting was a charitable movement on the part of the Supervisors to donate one-half of their earnings at this meeting to charity, and on Wednesday afternoon this was voted on and carried by twenty-one "ayes" and 20 "nos". On Thursday morning the vote was reconsidered and lost. Some of the Supervisors said it was the most ridiculous way of raising money for charity they ever heard of, and some of them said that when they wanted to give money to the poor, they wanted to see it spent so that the poor would get all of it instead of part of it, which may be used up in expense.

Thursday afternoon was devoted to the reading of the bills and their passing. Instead of reading the details, they passed them in large quantities under one vote as usual, and they were all ordered paid. No objection. The meeting then adjourned and a rush was made for the "pay-teller's office." It reminded one of a boy's picnic and a hot-dog stand.

We shall give more about this meeting in the next issue.

We shall give more about this meeting in the next issue.

Have Change of Heart.

One of the humorous incidents of the meeting was a charitable movement on the part of the Supervisors to donate one-half of their earnings at this meeting to charity, and on Wednesday afternoon this was voted on and carried by twenty-one "ayes" and 20 "nos". On Thursday morning the vote was reconsidered and lost. Some of the Supervisors said it was the most ridiculous way of raising money for charity they ever heard of, and some of them said that when they wanted to give money to the poor, they wanted to see it spent so that the poor would get all of it instead of part of it, which may be used up in expense.

Thursday afternoon was devoted to the reading of the bills and their passing. Instead of reading the details, they passed them in large quantities under one vote as usual, and they were all ordered paid. No objection. The meeting then adjourned and a rush was made for the "pay-teller's office." It reminded one of a boy's picnic and a hot-dog stand.

We shall give more about this meeting in the next issue.

A quack grass and Canada eradication demonstration will be held at the Model Farm next Monday morning, June 22, at 8 o'clock, Standard Time (9 o'clock fast time) and a second one at Ray Seymour's at 9:30, Standard Time or 10:30 fast time. Be sure to arrange to attend one of these demonstrations and learn more about getting rid of these friends.

Guernsey Field Day.

The State Guernsey Breeds Association, together with the University of Illinois, have arranged for a Guernsey field day, to be held at Grankmead farm, St. Charles, Ill., Tuesday, June 23, beginning at 10 a. m., Standard Time. Many prominent Guernsey people will attend this picnic and field day. A 4-H judging contest will be sponsored, and a real day is planned.

New Farm Supply Manager.

The board of directors of the Lake County Farm Supply Company, with fifteen out of sixteen members present, voted unanimously to hire Al Smith, of Belvidere, as general manager of the Lake County Farm Supply Company, at a meeting Monday evening at their offices. Mr. Smith comes very highly recommended, and has made a big business success in all of his previous ventures. Mr. Smith will take active charge July 1.

The Lake County Farm Supply Company is a subsidiary organization of the Lake County Farm Bureau, and should receive the earnest support of every Farm Bureau member.

Future Farmers In Action

William Nielsen and Harry Johnson are the Antioch delegates at the state Future Farmers convention, which is being held at Urbana, Ill., this week. Kenneth Denman, editor of the Illinois Future Farmer and Robert Hughes, one of the twelve vice presidents of the state association, also are in attendance.

The fat stock judging team was out for practice Saturday. They visited the Hawthorne, Edellyn and Allendella farms.

The dairy team was out Monday and practiced at the Millroad, Elmwood and Hawthorne farms.

An Open Letter

Germany and all for the purpose of a united drive upon the United States to deaden our war loans and denature our tariff.

Were American taxpayers to accept as true the newspaper headlines above outlined, our taxpayers would have to conclude that conceals and conceals predominate in our diplomacy which cannot take liberties with the American taxpayers for the reason that the hands that hold the purse strings rule the nation.

No mandate exists for any American official to entertain in any form any of the above outlined proposals which so far are being credited to alien diplomacy.

Probably the plain whole truth is recorded in an assertion that the average American taxpayer does not want to answer in any form for the defaults, debts, or miscarriages of foreign nations and that such a taxpayer hopes our President will now and definitely plainly inform the world that the American people will never entertain in any form any proposals for the American people to buy peace in Europe at the price of the United States cancelling or revising the war debts or lowering the U. S. tariff.

Many taxpayers believe that such a plain statement would crush all false hopes in Europe to the contrary and make allens fully realize that they must put and keep their own house in order, now and forever, so far as the American taxpayers are concerned.

For too long a time the press has been saturated with very clever alien-serving propaganda which has tried to create an impression that American prosperity cannot return until and unless the war debts are cancelled or revised downward, and the United States tariff lowered.

That is old stuff because the same press drive was made at the end of the World War. It was checkmated largely by the late Judge Gary who broadcast that it is just as well for nations as individuals to pay their debts; that the United States could live within and upon itself largely; that the American people intended to go forward with their business and upon a profitable basis. The U. S. Steel corporation declared an extra dividend and business started with a jump for the better.

The United States at this hour of very hard times needs another Judge Gary and another President Coolidge. Yours is the opportunity to arise to the needs of the day and lead the American people away from the European trials and tribulations of centuries past and to come and to inspire all Americans to have full confidence in themselves, each other, and in our American civilization.

Militant taxpayers are convinced that it is time has come to call a halt upon the sub-stuff from European diplomats who will never be able to induce the American people to suffer international socialism to divide up with European states the American accumulated wealth which is represented by billions of dollars in war loans by the U. S. to the allies. If any American statesmen have a contrary belief, let them run for President, senator or congressman on such a platform of internationalism, repudiation of war debts, and a tariff to reduce armaments in Europe.

President Wilson promised the world that all covenants between free-men would be openly arrived at, and so are not taxpayers within their natural rights in seeking a plain statement from their President upon matters which touch directly and hard every American pocketbook? Such a statement is awaited by millions of American taxpayers who are withholding judgment and action to protect their own interests at the ballot box.

CHANNEL LAKE COUNTRY CLUB NEWS

While the many recent rains have been a drawback to some, they have enhanced the beauty and general condition of the countryside, and our golf course was never in better playing condition. The members were out in full force Sunday, taking advantage of the glorious sunshine which has been so scarce over the past few weeks.

Both the board of directors of the club and chairman of the ladies' auxiliary held meetings Saturday and Sunday to discuss plans for the season. The ladies are arranging for their first card party to be held Tuesday, June 23, the regular tournament to begin Tuesday, June 30. Reservations for the luncheon at one o'clock, Daylight Saving Time, should be made with Mrs. Souter at the club house not later than Sunday, June 21.

Members should not forget the ladies' putting contest Thursday morning, June 23, at 10:30, Daylight Saving Time. Special prizes will be offered, and luncheon will be served following the game, for which reservations must also be made.

Mesdames Tankersley, Arms, Sandell, and Laflin enjoyed a motor trip to Lakeside, Mich., Tuesday of last week. They were overnight guests of Mrs. F. R. Fenton in her attractive home on the borders of Lake Michigan.

THE CLOTHES CRISIS AGAIN

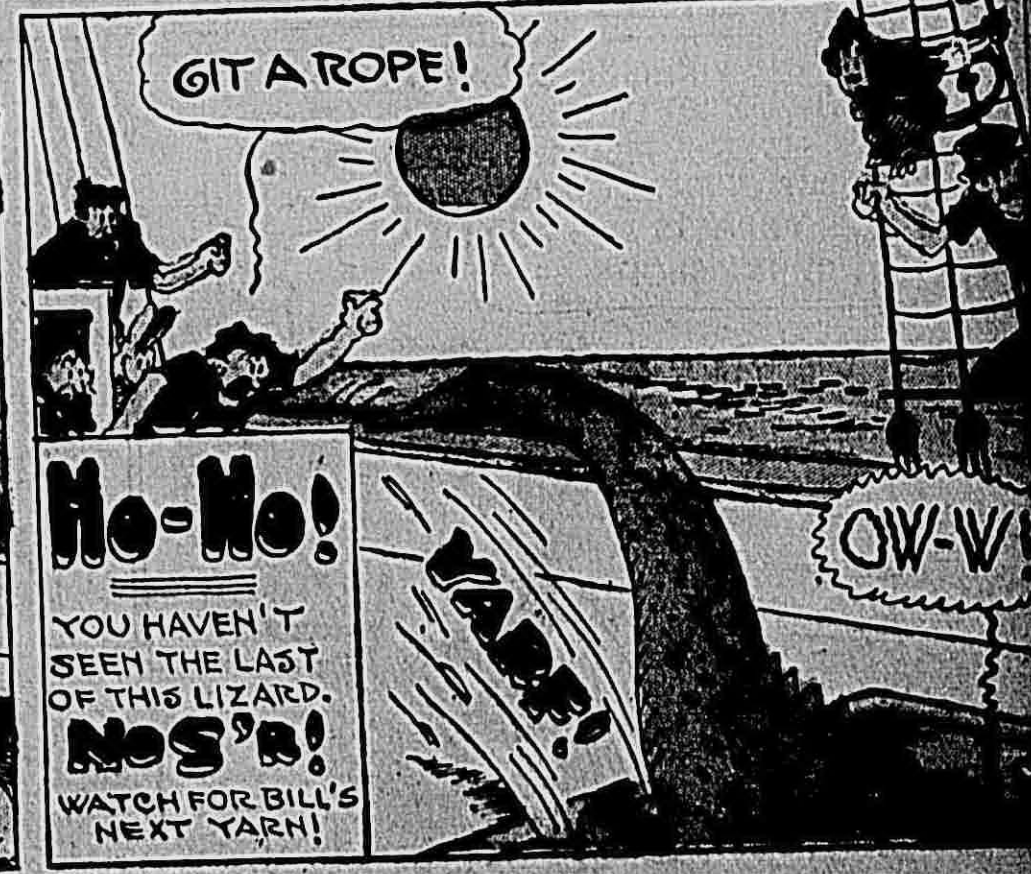

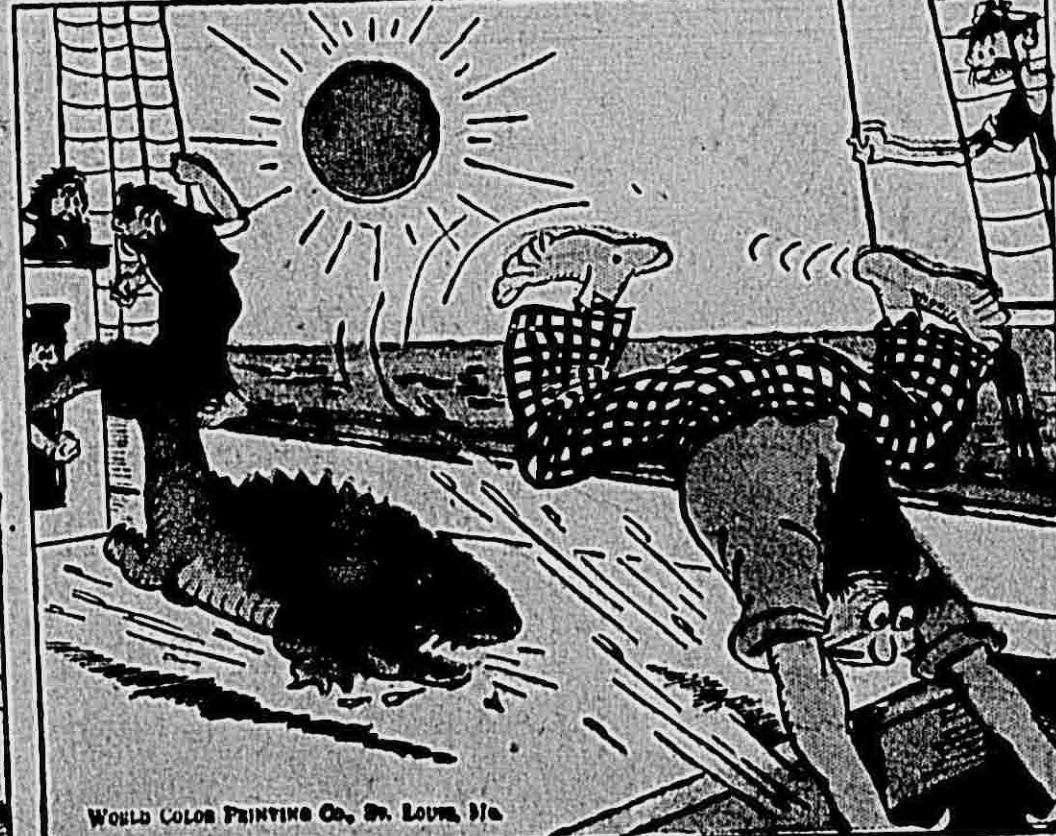

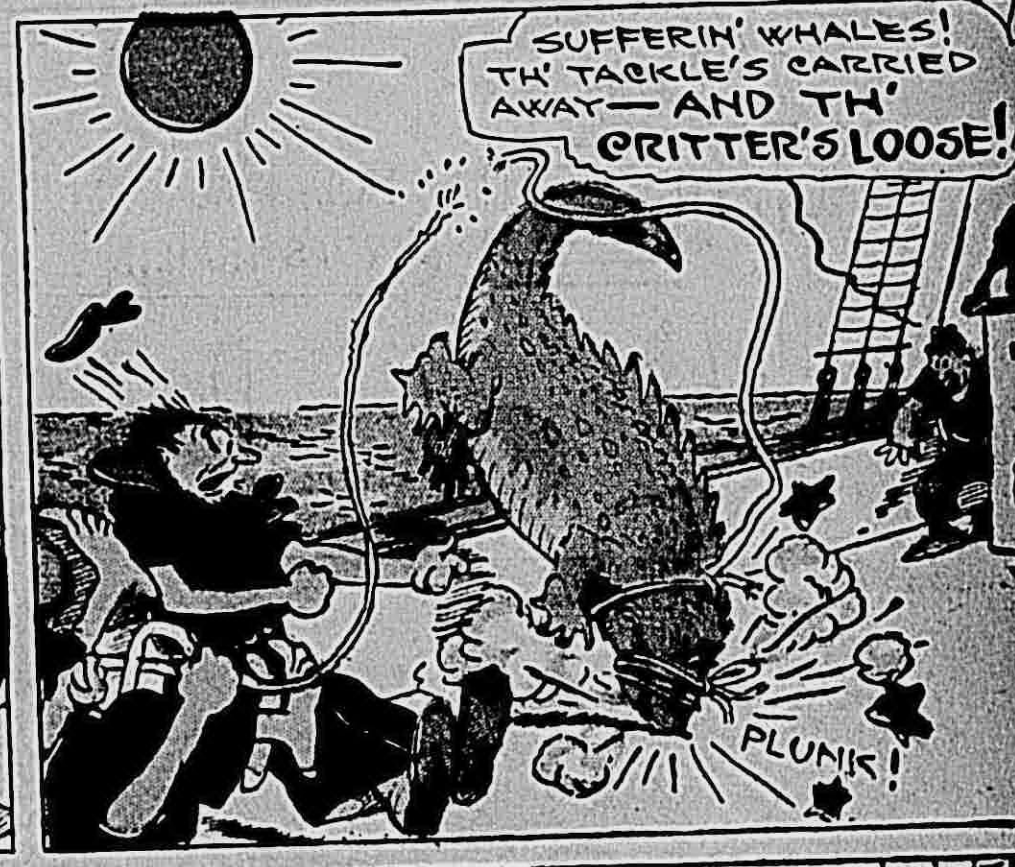

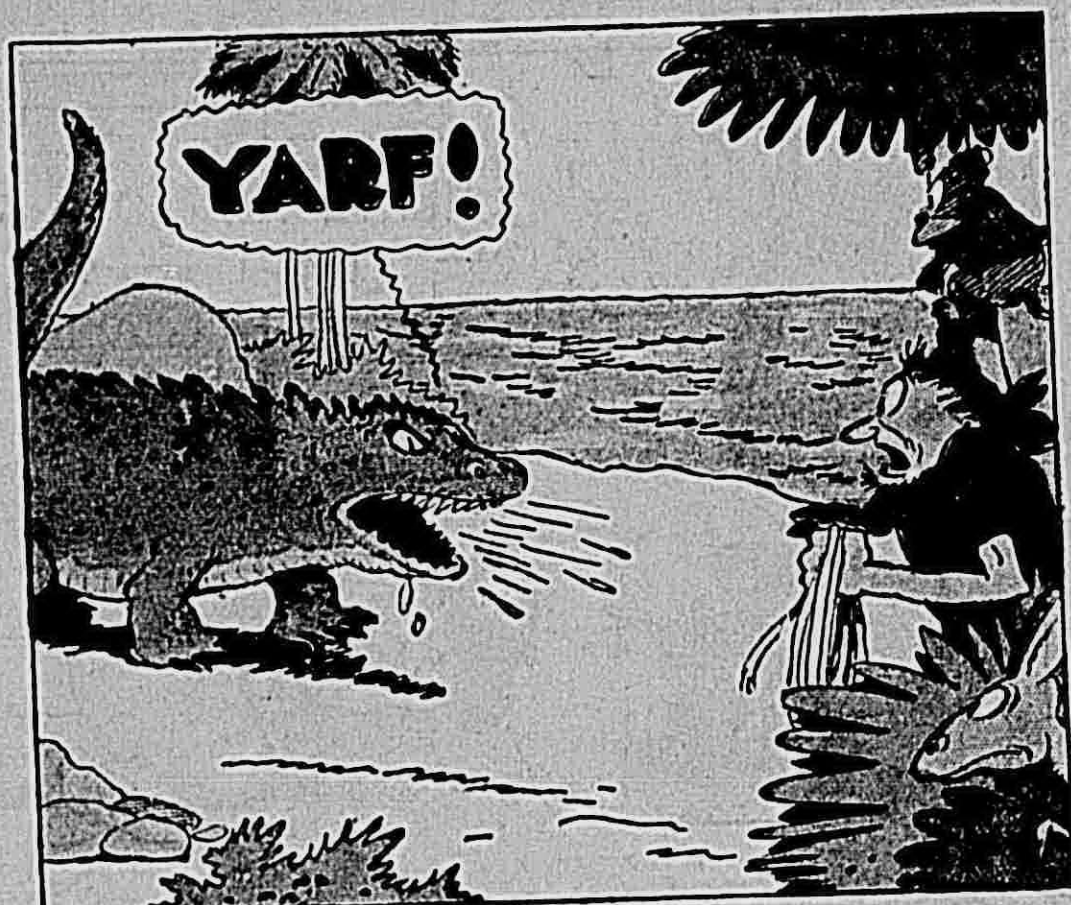

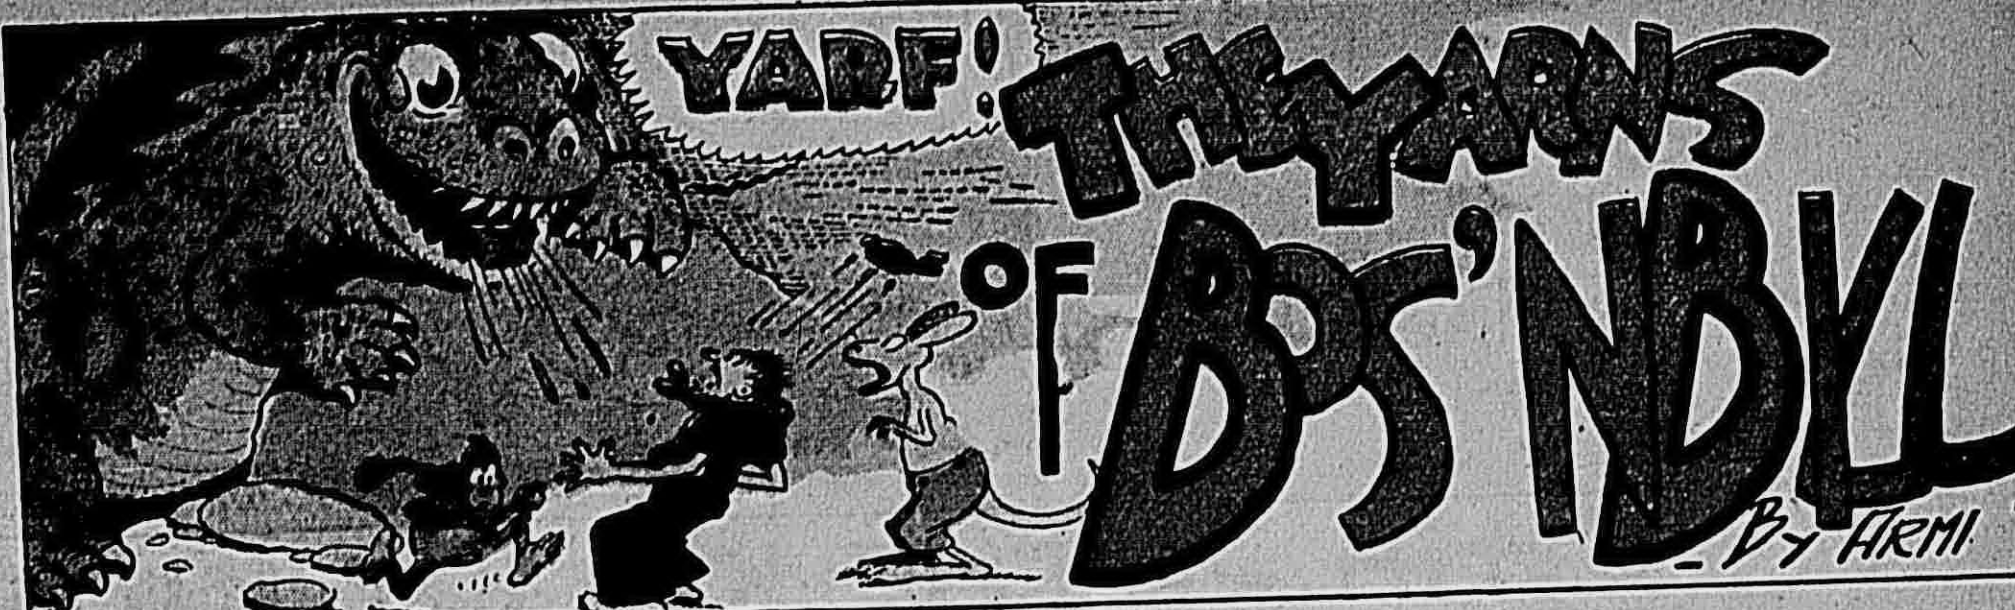

While our schooner, th' Lanul, was becalmed off an island near Java I had a queer adventure. Tops'l Barney had told me about th' big lizards that lived on th' island, so, with Kangy and Singoot, my kangaroo and monkey pals, I went ashore to get a peep at one of 'em.

We'd reached th' edge of th' jungle, when all of a sudden we heard a barkin' snarl and I'll be daddratted if there wasn't a lizard fully ten feet long glarin' at us and lashin' his long scaly tail from side to side. With his mouth open, showin' his long sharp teeth, he came for us. We lit out of there in a hurry with that fierce-eyed hungry critter tearin' up th' dirt behind us.

I shinned up the first tree and Kangy and Singoot climbed to th' top of a high rock. I had a long rope with me, and when th' lizard stood on his hind-legs and tried to get me I threw a noose over his head, hauled tight on th' rope and made it fast to a limb. He was helpless, so I tied his jaws together with a piece of th' rope, drove and pulled him to th' boat, and towed him to th' Lanul.

We were hoisting th' critter aboard when th' tackle carried away, throwin' Mr. Lizard on deck and losin' his ropes. One of th' crew that happened to be near him took to his heels with the lizard after him. Down a hatchway, into th' hold, dove th' sailor, with th' lizard snappin' at him. In my next yarn you'll find out what happened to th' sailor and th' lizard.
